Proceedings of the Legislature—Senate Not in Session—Petitions Presented—Bills Introduced and Reported from Committees—Denouncement of Newspaper Charges.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, March 29, 1869.

SENATE.

The Senate meets to-morrow.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

PETITIONS, ETC.

Mr. WILSON, one from Temperanceville against the bill enlarging the boundaries of said borough; from Patton township for a prohibitory liquor law; from the Pittsburgh Bar for a law allowing interested parties to testify; three from Allegheny for a general prohibitory liquor law; from Fourteenth ward, Pittsburgh, for a law allowing special terms for gas in said ward; from Allegheny, protesting against McKee's Ferry supplement.

BILLS INTRODUCED.

Mr. STRANG introduced a bill protecting contingent interests, which authorizes the owner of contingent interest in the personal property of any decedent to require executors and administrators to make and exhibit in the Register's office an account of trust in one year from the time of granting administration. Passed finally.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES.

Among the reports of the Committees was a bill incorporating the State Line, Juniata and Lake Erie Railway Company—negatively.

Senate Insane bill—affirmatively.

Creating a new county, to be called Petrolia—negatively.

BILLS PRESENTED.

Mr. WILSON introduced a bill relative to the assessment of damages on the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad, providing for viewers.

Mr. PLAYFORD, a bill requiring the Monongahela Bridge Company, at Bridgeport, to light their bridge with gas.

NEWSPAPER CHARGES.

Mr. STRONG, of Tioga, sent to the Clerk's desk, and had read, an article in the Philadelphia Inquirer criticising the proceedings in the House, on Wednesday evening, in which Mr. Kase played a part. He called it a slanderous falsehood. It was scandalously personal. These attacks upon the Legislature, and the personal characters of its members, had become too frequent, and he characterized them as made frequently to levy black mail. This editor held a semi-respectable position, but his assertions were unsupported by facts. No credence could be given to such men. The charges assumed the character of a sweeping attack upon the Legislature. He desired to put on record an absolute denial of the facts asserted. No Republican had made any attack on the gentleman from Northumberland. A newspaper, before it makes so grave and scandalous a charge, should know the facts. The man who made the allegations of facts he did not know. He was as guilty of lieing as was a deliberate liar. A great many representatives of just such papers as this wanted a law to protect them in libel suits. He gave notice that he would introduce a bill providing that no man should publish a newspaper until he should have filed a certificate of twelve reliable citizens that he is honest and of good repute for veracity.

RIVER CONFLAGRATION.

Seven Steamboats Burned at St. Louis—Total Loss $200,000.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, March 29.—About eight o'clock this evening a fire broke out on the steamer Ben Johnson, lying at the foot of Washington avenue, and in less than fifteen minutes the Henry Atkins, next above, and the Carrie V. Kountz and G. B Allen, below, were a mass of flames and their entire upper works destroyed, and the Fanny Scott and two other boats adjoining the Allen, were cut loose and floated down stream, and although the Kountz followed swiftly after them, still burning very fiercely, they escaped unharmed. All the boats were loading for the mountains. The value of the steamers and the insurance cannot be given at this writing.

The Fannie Scott, after floating down stream, was towed across the river by the Jennie Lewis, where both grounded. While in this situation the Armenia, which had taken fire from a mass of burning upper works that had floated from one of the steamers first burned, drifted against them, and all three burned to the water's edge. As these steamers were on the other side of the river but little information in reference to them can be obtained.

The total loss cannot be less than two hundred thousand dollars. The Girard B. Allen was valued at thirty thousand dollars; insurance is not known, except five thousand dollars in the Boatman of St. Louis. She was to start for Fort Benton on the 5th proximo, and was partially laden. The Ben Johnson was owned by Capt. Ben Johnson; value twenty-five thousand dollars; insured for twelve thousand dollars. The Carrie V. Kountz was entirely new, reached here from Pittsburg a few days ago, is owned by Capt. W. J. Kountz, and was valued at $30,000; insurance not known. She was to have left for the mountains on April 1st. Of the other boats nothing can be ascertained to-night. Several other steamers made narrow escapes.

The wharf where these boats lay, and for several blocks below, was closely filled with steamers, and if the wind had been high nothing could have prevented the most fearful conflagration that ever took place at our levee.

CHICAGO.

Death of a Bank President--General Sheridan.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, March 29.—Hon. James H. Woodworth, President of the Treasury National Bank of this city, and one of our oldest and most respected citizens, died at his temporary residence in Highland Park last evening. Mr. Woodworth became a resident of Chicago in 1853. He was elected to the State Senate in 1839, and to the State House of Representatives in 1842. He was Mayor of the city from 1845 to 1850, and represented this district in the Thirty-Fourth Congress. He died in his sixty-fifth year.

Lieut. Gen. Sheridan has secured his new headquarters in this city in the new marble building on the northwest corner of Lasalle and Washington streets, just erected by the Merchants Insurance Company. The Lieut. General and staff will occupy the entire third story, comprising seventeen pleasant and commodious rooms, and possession will be taken of the rooms about the 15th of April, at about which time Gen. Sheridan will return to this city.

NEW YORK CITY.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, March 29, 1869.

In the case of Fisk vs. the U. P. R. R., Judge Barnard to-day made an order vacating that of Judge Rosecranz, transferring the suit to the U. S. Court. Counsel for Fisk then moved that Thos. C. Durant be committed to Ludlow street jail as having been guilty of contempt in failing to produce books as ordered by the Court. Counsel for defence made an argument in opposition, when the Judge stated he had power to commit Durant, but would defer action until to morrow. Durant was then examined, and in explaining how his efforts to obtain the books proved futile, stated that the directors had been given to understand this suit was a "black mailing operation," and statements were alleged to be made that unless they "come down," they would be driven from the State, and that such a statement, or one similar in its tendency, had even been attributed to Judge Barnard. The case was not concluded. Arguments on the same suit were made to day in the United States Court, before Judge Blatchford.

Gang of Thieves Broken Up.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LOUISVILLE, March 29.—Some of the city police, assisted by two Deputy United States Marshals, have captured a most infamous gang of thieves at a place called Lost Island, a few miles below this city. The party consisted of four negro men and three white women, who lived together in a most degraded manner and subsisted by pillaging the neighborhood. On Tuesday night they proceeded to the house of one Mary J. Hill, a white woman, partially demolished her house and beat her in a brutal manner. They stole watches and plundered generally, and it is also supposed had been connected with the foul murder of Charcoal Johnson and his family, which took place last fall.

Walking Contest—Twenty-four Hours Rain.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BUFFALO, March 29.—Payne and Weston walk to-morrow for a purse of $500. They start from Walnut creek, ten miles above Erie, and walk to Buffalo, one hundred and three miles. No time specified; the first man in wins the purse.

The rain continued twenty-four hours. It has cleared off the snow, and the canal is almost entirely clear of ice at this point. Navigation opens early.

Murder at Memphis.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MEMPHIS, March 29.—A brutal murder was committed last night at the corner of Third and Madison streets. Peter Crowley, while going to church with a lady, was deliberately shot in the back by John Kennedy, who fled, and thus far has not been arrested. Kennedy was a rival of Crowley and jealousy is supposed to have been the cause.

[FIRST SESSION.]

SENATE: Tenure-of-Office Repeal Bill—Amendment Insisted Upon and a Conference Committee Appointed. HOUSE: Bills and Resolutions Presented and Referred—Central Pacific Railroad Investigation—Reorganization of Judicial System.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, March 29, 1869.

SENATE.

The VICE PRESIDENT submitted the joint resolutions of the Legislatures o Pennsylvania and South Carolina ratifying the Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution.

Mr. SUMNER presented a petition of the Society of Friends of Richmond, Va., for an appropriation of $50,000 for the erection of an asylum for colored orphans.

Mr. HOWARD presented several joint resolutions of the Legislature of Michigan asking appropriations for public improvements, and one calling the attention of the Indian Department to the importance of having the Indians in that State vaccinated.

Mr. WILSON, from the Committee on Military Affairs, reported the joint resolution continuing the pay of enlisted men at the present rate until the 30th of June, 1870, which was passed.

Also, a joint resolution, which was passed, dropping from the rolls of the army officers absent without leave.

Mr. HOWARD, from Committee on Pacific Railroad, reported favorably a joint resolution granting the right of way for the construction of a railroad from a point at or near Portland, Oregon, to the Cascade Mountains.

Mr. VICKERS reported from the Committee on the District of Columbia a bill to amend the usury laws thereof.

Mr. SPRAGUE moved to refer to the Committee on Appropriations the bill introduced by him the other day to provide for loaning the public money. Agreed to.

Mr. DRAKE introduced a bill to establish the office of Solicitor and Naval Judge Advocate General. Referred to Committee on Naval Affairs.

Mr. SAWYER introduced a bill prescribing the oath of office to be taken by persons who participated in the late rebellion, but who are not disqualified by the Fourteenth Amendment. Referred to Committee on Judiciary.

Mr. McDONALD introduced a bill to confirm the charter of the New Orleans Ship Canal Company and granting the right of way to said Company. Referred to Committee on Commerce.

Mr. WILSON introduced a bill to remove the political disabilities of Judge Alexander Rives, of Virginia. Referred to Committee on Political Disabilities.

At this point a message was received from the House announcing its non-concurrence in the action of the Senate on the bill to repeal the Tenure-of-Office act.

Mr. TRUMBULL moved the Senate insist upon its amendments, and ask a Committee of Conference.

Mr. GRIMES moved that the Senate recede.

Mr. DAWES read a constitutional argument in support of the latter motion.

At the expiration of the morning hour the unfinished business of Friday, being the supplementary act, was postponed, that the bill to repeal the Tenure-of-Office act might be considered.

Mr. TRUMBULL spoke at length in favor of the motion to insist, making a legal argument to show that the whole subject of the appointment and removal from office is by the Constitution made subject to the consent of the Senate or regulation by law, and that the President would have under the present bill all the power he could have if the Tenure-of-Office act were repealed. The only effect of the Tenure-of-Office act, as amended, is to put the old officers back after the session is closed, in case the Senate refuse to confirm a nomination, or by not refusing to concur in his suspension. Without the law the officer must remain vacant. With the law the old officer must go back. Which is best for the public interests, that the offices once filled by the concurrent action of the President and Senate should, after a failure of a whole session to agree on a successor, become vacant, or that the old incumbent, when his suspension was affirmatively disapproved of by the Senate, should go back and perform his duties? This is virtually all that remains of the Tenure-of-office act as amended by the Senate. Why should not the two Houses agree on it, when practically the President has under it all the powers ever exercised by any of his predecessors, and he has them in an unquestioned form. Nobody can doubt the authority of Congress by law to authorize the suspension of an officer appointed under its authority, as the power to fix the duration of the term of office is established. Why, then, this disagreement between us and the House, and so much feeling in the country? I am persuaded it arises from the action of mischief makers, and persons who desire to stir up animosity between the branches of Congress and the Executive. It is a mistake to suppose the Senate wishes to arrogate to itself powers above the House or Executive. The Constitution has made its advice and consent necessary to the appointment of officers, and he would not so legislate as to render that advice and consent unnecessary. If the two Houses will approach this subject in a spirit of harmony, as I believe they will, and not with a desire to get up antagonism, there can be no difficulty in coming to an agreement. All the friends of the administration desire to remove any obstacles that may exist to its faithful and efficient conduct of public affairs, and let there be no strife between us, but an honest effort to uphold and sustain the administration, which the people have chosen, in its endeavors to enforce the laws and secure peace, prosperity and happiness to the people.

Mr. MORTON said he would vote to recede. The Senator from Illinois had assumed the merits of this bill on one point, that in cases where the President should suspend an officer and nominate a successor, and the Senate should refuse to confirm that successor, the law would prevent a vacancy, which would otherwise occur on the adjournment of the Senate, by reinstating the old incumbent. But the fact was, that in this respect the law would be utterly ineffectual, because, although it would put back the old incumbent immediately upon the adjournment of the Senate, it would leave the President free to suspend him again without delay. The Senator from Illinois had asked him (Mr. Morton,) the other day whether he had not confidence enough in President Grant to believe he would not avail himself of that power, and the advocates of this law claimed it was not intended to bind a good President, but to control a bad one. But the difficulty was, it would impose no legal but merely a moral restraint, and therefore would be utterly powerless to control a bad President. Why, then, should not Senate recede? Why struggle for the shadow, when the substance has fled? There was another ground of objection to the bill. Should President Grant be restrained from suspending an officer a second time? That would depend upon circumstances. It would be monstrous to say that when an officer had been once suspended and reinstated by this law, he should thereafter be free to steal or commit other misdemeanor in office until the next session of Congress, without liability to removal by the President.

Mr. SPRAGUE said the Tenure-of-Office law, in substance and shadow, was wrong and mischief, and should be repealed.

Mr. HOWARD again declared himself opposed to repeal, first, because he believed it to be a salutary assertion of true constitutional doctrine on the subject of appointment to and removal from office; and, second, because it had been legally claimed by the counsel of Mr. Johnson, on the impeachment trial, that the President had power under the Constitution to make appointments and removals, not only in the recess, but even during the session of the Senate, and if Congress should now repeal the Tenure-of-office act, for violation of which a President had been put upon his trial, it would thereby give a tacit assent to that doctrine.

Mr. HOWE made a long argument in vindication of the constitutionality and wisdom of the Tenure-of-Office act, and in favor of retaining it unmodified upon the statute books.

Mr. POMEROY was willing to vote for a Conference Committee, in deference to the wishes of a majority of his political friends, although he would prefer to see the law repealed.

Mr. WARNER said the power of the Senate over appointments to and removal from office was derived, not directly from the Constitution, but from a law enacted by both Houses, and now, when the other House desired to recall its assent to that law, he thought the Senate should assent to that desire and to the repeal of the law.

The motion to recede was then lost by the following vote:

Yeas—Messrs. Bayard, Casserly, Cole, Davis, Fessenden, Fenton, Fowler, Grimes, McCreery, McDonald, Morton, Pool, Robinson, Ross, Sprague, Stockton, Thayer, Thurman, Vickers and Warner—20.

Nays—Messrs. Abbott, Anthony, Boreman, Brownlow, Buckingham, Cameron, Carpenter, Cattell, Conkling, Cragin, Drake, Edmunds, Ferry, Gilbert, Hamlin, Harlan, Harris, Howard, Howe, Kellogg, Morrell, Nye, Patterson, Pomeroy, Pratt, Ramsey, Rice, Sawyer, Schurz, Scott, Spencer, Sumner, Tipton, Trumbull, Willey, Williams and Wilson—37.

The motion to insist and ask a Committee of Conference was then agreed to.

At 4.30 the Senate went into Executive session and soon after adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Under the call of States bills and joint resolutions were introduced and referred as follows:

By Mr. BUTLER, of Massachusetts: Authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to collect the Internal Revenue now due and uncollected by reason of false and fraudulent returns; also, to incorporate a national land company for providing lands for immigrants and freedmen in the late slave-holding States.

By Mr. JENCKES: To repeal certain provisions in the Appropriation bill relative to the Patent Office.

By Mr. DOCKERY: To pay loyal citizens in States lately in rebellion for services in taking the United States census in 1860.

By Mr. COBB: For the sale of Government property at Plymouth, N. C.; also, for the removal of obstructions from the Roanoke river, N. C.

By Mr. WHITTEMORE: To authorize the settlement of certain accounts; also, to enable the Secretary of the Treasury to contract with Fisk & Mills for a group of statuary for the south wing of the Capitol.

By Mr. LAWRENCE: To punish the crime of holding office in violation of the constitution; also, in relation to trust funds; also, to preserve the purity of elections in territories.

The House, on motion of Mr. BINGHAM, adopted a resolution instructing the Committee on Pacific Railroad to enquire into the circumstances attending the late issue of bonds to the Central Pacific Railroad.

The House laid on the table, by a vote of 104 to 40, a resolution offered by Mr. MORGAN to exempt salt, tea, coffee, sugar, matches and tobacco from all federal taxation, and to tax bonds two and a half per cent.

Mr. SCHENCK moved to suspend the rules that he might offer a concurrent resolution for a Joint Committee on Ordnance. Rules not suspended.

The House then proceeded to the business on the Speaker's table and disposed of it as follows:

Senate concurrent resolution for a joint committee, consisting of the Senate Committee on Contingent Expenses and House Committee on Accounts, to define the number, duties and compensation of the employes of both houses, was agreed to.

The Senate bill to amend the Judiciary System of the United States.

Mr. BINGHAM, from the Committee on the Judiciary, reported a substitute for this bill, and explained and advocated it.

Mr. POLAND offered an amendment, prohibiting the Judges participating in trials below.

The bill, substitute and amendment were debated by Messrs. Bingham, Poland, Lawrence, Woodward, Jenckes, Benton, Kerr, Butler, (Mass.,) Stevenson and Maynard. The principal points of discussion were a provision in the substitute which allows Judges to resign after serving a certain number of years, with a pension, and retaining their commissions as Judges, and the amendment offered by Mr. Poland.

Mr. KERR moved to amend the substitute by making the age for retiring Judges seventy-five instead of seventy years.

Finally the amendment offered by Mr. Kerr was rejected without division.

That offered by Mr. Poland was rejected—40 to 72.

The substitute was then passed—99 to 50—with a few exceptions, a party vote.

The substitute provides that the Supreme Court shall hereafter consist of a Chief Justice and eight Associate Justices, any six of whom shall constitute a quorum, and in case any such Justices shall be excused and retired from active duty, under the provisions of the act, an additional Associate Justice is to be appointed.

The second section provides a Circuit Judge for each of the nine existing judicial districts, to possess the same power and jurisdiction therein as the Justices of the Supreme Court allotted to the Circuit. The Circuit Courts are to be held by a Justice of the Supreme Court, or by the Circuit Judge, or by the District Judge, each sitting alone, or by the Supreme Court Justice and the Circuit Judge, sitting together. Such Courts may be held at the same time in different districts of the same Court.

The third section provides that nothing in the act shall affect the powers of the Justices of the Supreme Court as Judges of Circuit Courts, except in the appointment of clerks of Circuit Courts, who shall be appointed by the Circuit Judge.

The fourth section requires the Chief Justice and Justices of the Supreme Court to attend at least one term of the Circuit Court in each district of his circuit during every period of two years.

The fifth section provides that any Judge of the United States Court who is more than seventy years of age, and any Judge who shall hereafter attain that age, and who shall have served at least ten years as such Judge, may, upon his filing with the President a certificate of that fact, be excused and retired from active service as such Judge; but shall thereafter during the time he shall continue to hold office be entitled to his full salary.

The sixth section provides if any United States Judge shall, for a year after the passage of this act, where the Judge has already attained that age, after reaching the age of seventy, continue to hold his office without filing such certificate, the President shall appoint an additional Judge for the same Court, who shall have the same power, perform the same duties and receive the same compensation as the Judge then acting, and shall, in connection with or in the absence of his senior associate, hold courts prescribed by law, and shall on the death or retirement of the senior Judge become a Judge of that court.

Adjourned.

New Orleans Matters—Important Court Decisions.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, March 29.—The First United States Infantry left to-day on the steamer, Robert E. Lee, for Detroit, having been stationed here for five years. The Press all express regrets at their departure, and good wishes for their future. General Buchanan will not relinquish command for a few days.

Several important decisions were rendered by Judge Durell in the United States Court this morning. Three more of the wine cases were decided in favor of the government. The decision is believed to cover all the points that can be raised. In the case of Dr. J. T. Tucker, agent of the Illinois Central Railroad, petitioning to have the New Orleans and Opelousas Railroad declared bankrupt, the Judge in an elaborate decision held that Railroad bond coupons were not commercial paper within the meaning of the bankrupt law, and that under the State laws and act of incorporation a remedy was provided to which the creditors might resort; that in paying coupons after suit was brought on the same was not preferring one creditor over another, and therefore not an act of bankruptcy; and that the company was not insolvent, inasmuch as the assets by appraisement exceeded the liabilities due or to become due by more than half a million dollars. The Court expressed some doubt as to whether railroad companies come under the provisions of the bankrupt law.

Sealed proposals were to day opened by the State Treasury for $90,000 levee eight per cent. bonds, pledged to banks of this city as collateral for loans for levee purposes. The highest bid was that of P. J. Kennedy, the great levee contractor, at 80½c, which was accepted.

The Cuban Insurrection.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HAVANA, March 29.—In the outskirts of Cardenas last Saturday night a patrol was fired upon. The fire was returned and two Cubans killed and one taken prisoner severely wounded.

President Baez, of St. Domingo, has refused to allow the organization of expeditions in aid of the Cuba rebels.

The Diario publishes the following news from the interior:

In the Cienfuegos district the government troops have completely surrounded the rebel forces under Gen. Ballomat La Valladore. Gen. Bucta, with three thousand regulars, left Cienfuegos yesterday, to attack the insurgents in the mountains, near Signana. He expects to effect a junction near there with the column advancing from Trinidad, under Gen. Escalante.

A large party of insurgents was defeated on Saturday near Trinidad. Telegraphic communication with Cienfuegos was restored. A detachment of twelve hundred troops arrived at Santa Cruz on the 20th inst. from Puerto Principe for supplies. They were to return next day.

Advices from Nassau to the 22d are received. A Spanish man-of-war had captured the British ship Jeff Davis, which was returning with a cargo of sponges, and had also boarded and searched the schooner Brittania. The Peruvian monitors still remained at Ragged Island, waiting supplies of coal from Nassau.

Missing Bonds.

DETROIT, March 29.—Among the bonds stolen from Mr. Wilkins, on Friday, were six Port Burwell, Canada, Harbor bonds of four hundred dollars each, payable at the Bank of British North America, London. These are the only Port Burwell Harbor bonds afloat.

THE CAPITAL.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, March 29, 1869.

NAVY DIFFICULTY IN CHINA.

Rear Admiral Rowan, commanding the Asiatic squadron, writes from Hong Kong, under date of January 26th, giving an account of the difficulty between the British naval authorities and the Chinese near Swatow. The commander of an English gunboat took his boats some six or eight miles from the anchorage to exercise them, and in passing the village of Puling the villagers commenced pelting them with stones. Lieut. Kerr then landed and remonstrated, and finding the elders of the village decided to take the head man of the party in one of the boats to Swatow. The villagers resisted and fired on the Lieutenant, who returned the fire and soon dispersed them. The Lieutenant re-embarked, and when a short way on his return was intercepted by the villagers, who had cut across the country and who fired on the boats, wounding eleven men, two seriously. The fire was returned and eleven of the villagers were reported killed and thirty wounded. When the news reached Hong Kong Vice Admiral Keppel despatched two corvettes and two gunboats, with four hundred seamen from the flagship Rodney, to Swatow, to redress the unprovoked outrage on the English flag.

The Northern Tier Railway.

We print below the full text of the Errett bill, which has just become a law:

AN ACT to secure the construction of a low-grade railway to connect the waters of the Ohio and Allegheny valleys with the Susquehanna, and thereby to secure the ultimate payment of three million five hundred thousand dollars to the State of Pennsylvania, and to apply the same, with interest thereon, to the payment of the public debt.

WHEREAS, It is a matter of much public importance to the State at large that a railway should be completed, at an early date, connecting the valleys of the Allegheny and the Ohio with the valleys of the west branch of the Susquehanna, by a system of low gradients, for the movement of heavy traffic, thereby developing a valuable portion of this Commonwealth and adding greatly to taxable values for State purposes, as well as to provide in connection therewith for the absolute and final payment of the principal of three and a half million of dollars originally owing from the Sunbury and Erie Railroad Company for the purchase of certain portions of the original State Canals, together with interest thereon from January 6, 1872; and whereas, it it is believed that these desirable objects may be accomplished, and in order to grant sufficient authority for effective efforts to be made to secure the same, therefore,

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the Allegheny Valley Railroad Company be and the same is hereby authorized to execute a first mortgage upon a line of railway to be constructed by it under the authority heretofore conferred from the mouth of the Mahoning, in Armstrong county, to the mouth of Bennett's Branch, in Cameron county, by such route as may, to said company, seem most desirable, and there to form a connection with the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad, or other connecting roads forming through lines to Philadelphia and New York, said mortgage not to exceed ten millions of dollars, to secure registered or coupon bonds bearing interest at not exceeding seven per centum per annum, clear of taxes; and the said Allegheny Valley Railroad Company is hereby authorized to create and execute a second mortgage for three and a half millions of dollars, bearing interest at five per centum per annum, payable semi-annually from and after the first day of January, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two, to secure thirty-five bonds of one hundred thousand dollars each, which shall be payable to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to be deposited in the sinking fund of the Commonwealth, with the interest thereon for application only to the payment of the public debt, these bonds to be received by the Commonwealth in lieu and substitution of the original debt of that amount that was contracted to be paid by the Sunbury and Erie Railroad Company. And the said three and a half millions of dollars of five per cent. bonds shall be received in full satisfaction of the said purchase money and claims and liens arising thereunder; provided, however, that the said second mortgage of the Allegheny Valley Railroad Company shall first be delivered and all of the said three and a half millions of dollars of five per centum bonds shall be guaranteed, principal and interest, by the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad Company, the Northern Central Railway Company, and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, or by railway companies of equal responsibility forming other through lines, as stated, to Philadelphia and New York, whose guarantee shall be satisfactory to and first be approved by all the commissioners of said sinking fund; and further, that the principal of one of the said thirty-five bonds—to wit, one hundred thousand dollars shall be payable each and every year, beginning with the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, and so continuing annually thereafter until the entire three and a half millions of dollars, with interest thereon from the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two, on the unpaid principal shall be fully paid and liquidated. Upon the delivery of the mortgage and bonds, endorsed as hereinbefore provided, the commissioners of the sinking fund of this Commonwealth are hereby duly authorized and directed to deliver all obligations of the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad Company now in the sinking fund, or in any way belonging to the Commonwealth, to the Allegheny Valley Railroad Company, and to cancel or fully satisfy all mortgages and claims that exist in favor of the Commonwealth against said Sunbury and Erie, now known as the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad Company; and thereupon the entire proceeds of the ten millions first mortgage bonds, and the amount that may be realized from the proceeds of said claims against the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad Company shall be applied from time to time by the Allegheny Railroad Company only to the immediate construction and equipment of the said line between the points specified in this act and to the payment of the existing floating debt of said company.

Why People Don't Go to Church.

HALL'S Journal of Health has an article on this subject, in which it takes the ground that people are not made welcome. We make a few extracts:

There is, perhaps, not a member of the church to be found who would not feel gratified to have his place of worship filled every Sunday to its utmost capacity, except that he would rather prefer his own pew should hold only his own family. Here is the rub; this is where the shoe pinches. Each man wants every pew crowded, except his own. He feels, somehow or other, that he has a right to it; his money pays for it, and to have it occupied by strangers is irritating.

Last summer, in the beautiful leafy June, we had a desire to hear a Fifth avenue preacher, and as our own church was always crowded to repletion, we thought our seat would be filled by some stranger, and we would not be missed; knowing a friend who had a pew, we obtained permission to occupy a seat in it. We were greatly edified. At the conclusion of the services, it was stated that the regular pastor would occupy the pulpit on the next Sabbath day for the last time during the summer, but that the house would be opened all the season, the services of another having been secured; the pastor expressed the hope that the members of another church, which would be closed for repairs, would be welcomed to worship with them; also all strangers who might chance to drop in. Accordingly we were on hand bright and early next Sabbath morning with some ladies. There were about a dozen persons in the building, and not seeing any one to show us a seat, nor liking to stand an indefinite time, we thought that under all the circumstances of the case, there was to be a "free fight," and we might very properly take a seat where it suited us.

Scarcely had we comfortably seated ourselves, when we were very courteously and yet hesitatingly asked by the sexton:

"Are you friends of Mr. Blank?"

"No sir."

"Mr. Blank's family always attends church. Would you have any objection to take another seat?"

"Not the slightest."

This is the third time we have been invited out of pews in unequivocal terms in the dog-days, when there was pew after pew, before and behind, up stairs and down stairs, right and left, without a solitary occupant; every time in a Presbyterian church, every time in mid-summer, and every time after a public invitation from the pulpit, and twice from a special advertisement in the newspaper.

It cannot be supposed that the Presbyterians are less hospitable than other pewed churches, nor that it is a mere coincidence that we have been invited out of pews three times, in plain unmistakable words; the fair presumption is that it is the same in all places of public worship, where the pews are rented, and that thousands have been served in the same way, but have not taken the trouble to make it known in a public manner.

Prospects for Sugar.

The Baton Rouge (La.) Advocate says: "Steady and quietly is the advance of small farmers into the cultivation of cane. In a very few years the country between the Amite and Mississippi rivers will produce an aggregate of thousands of hogsheads, all the results of the enterprise and industry of the farmers on small tracts of lands. Scattered around at intervals at the present time are places with twenty, thirty and forty acres of cane planted. These will yield an average of from twenty to sixty hogsheads of sugar next fall, and bring great profit to the cultivators. The true policy of every farmer, on high lands or low lands, is to 'get in' some portion of his land in sugar cane. If not grown to be manufactured into sugar and molasses, the product always bears high prices, and the cane is fine food for stock. In another year there should not be one open cultivable place in East Louisiana upon which a more or less quantity of cane is not growing."

THE Labor Union of Salem, Columbiana county, have unanimously adopted the following resolution:

Resolved, That suffrage in the choice of law makers is one of the "inalienable rights" of human beings; that it is futile to attempt any discrimination in the exercise of that right on account of the skin; that we welcome all to equal rights and honest chances in the struggle for life against the political wolves that prey upon human liberty, and that we cordially invite all to join us in our efforts to break the clutch of usury from our throats.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, March 29, 1869.

The market was remarkably quiet today, contrary to general expectation, as it was thought on Saturday that prices would have declined sufficiently to insured a fair volume of business. Strange as it may appear, Crude, compared with Saturday, has undergone little or no change, in the face of a big river, and in anticipation of heavy receipts; indeed, there seemed to be as many buyers as sellers at the closing price of last week. Refined, although weak, is holding its own pretty well, though the feeling generally is that it must of necessity go lower, as the demand continues light and stocks steadily increasing, the latest advices from Philadelphia, placing the stock in that market at fifty thousand barrels, which is more than double what it was some few weeks since. The fact that prices are so well sustained in view of the facts above alluded to is attributed to a heavy short interest, which brings more buyers into market, and adds very materially to the demand. It is thought however, that after Crude commences to arrive pretty freely, that many parties, in consequence of the stringency in money matters, will be compelled to settle, their contracts, and pay the differences and that this will throw more oil on the market, and thus tend to force a decline.

CRUDE—As already intimated, was very quiet to-day, and but a single sale reported, 1,000 bbls for April, (40 to 45) seller, at 15. Several brokers reported considerable inquiry for spot or early deliveries, including until July sellers option, at 15; which is the closing price of Saturday.

REFINED—We can report two sales of 500 each, both for April, seller, at 32½; March quoted at 30@30½; April to June 33½; April to August 35; and April to December at 36¼@36½.

River and Weather.

LOUISVILLE, March 29.—The river is rising fast with 13 feet 6 inches water in the Canal. The weather is clear and delightful.

RIVER NEWS.

Under the influence of the recent rains, our rivers are again rising, with fourteen feet six inches in the channel by the Monongahela marks. The weather continues cloudy and dark, with frequent showers of rain.

The Kate Putnam, from Louisville and St. Mary's from Cincinnati, are the only arrivals we have to report, while aside from the packets, thore were no departures.

The splendid side wheeler St. Mary's, Capt. T. C. Sweeny, is the regular packet for Cincinnati to-day, leaving at 4 P. M. She offers superior inducements to passengers, being large and roomy, and supplied with all the modern improvements and conveniences. Mr. Morris Dorsey, the clerk, is a very attentive and gentlemanly officer.

The Emma No. 3, Capt. J. H. Marratta, is take her departure to-day for New Orleans. She is in all respects an excellent craft, and passengers and shippers will bear in mind that she goes clear through and no mistake.

—The Bellevernon left New Orleans on Saturday for Pittsburgh.

—The Waunita, enroute from New Orleans, was to have left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Monday.

—The Ajax, with a tow of twenty-four barges, passed Louisville on Saturday, enroute from New Orleans to Pittsburgh.

—The Collossal, Capt. M. A. Cox, and the Ida Rees No. 2, Capt. Thompson, are both announced for Missouri River, clear up to Fort Benton.

—The Lorena, Capt. Sam Shuman, will positively take her departure to-day for St. Louis and the Upper Mississippi. Capt. James Vandergrift still retains charge of the office.

—The Mollie Ebert, in command of the veteran Capt. G. W. Ebert, is filling up steadily for Missouri River, and will go clear through to Fort Benton. Capt. Standish Pephard still retains charge of the office.

—An Omaha telegram, under date of Friday, says: River stationary this evening: risen about 4 inches since yesterday. Arrived, Silver Bow from Pittsburgh this morning at 3 P. M. She goes to St. Louis and will load for the mountains. Weather clear and warm.

—The contract for transporting United States army supplies to the military posts of the Upper Missouri has been divided between Chicago and St. Louis, John W. Bofinger being the contractor for St. Louis, and Joab Lawrence and the Northwestern Railroad for Chicago.

—We clip the following from the St. Louis Democrat: We called upon the engineers of the Carrie V, Kountz, Pickering and Crawford, who informed us that her engines—the Hartupee patent, the same as those of the Quickstep and Great Republic—are a complete success. They did not get out of order at any time during the trip, and moved her along in a rapid manner. Her time from Cairo to this port was 42 hours. On the entire trip she consumed only 1,700 bushels of coal.

—Henry Murty was many years ago, employed as a deck-hand about Pittsburgh on steamers owned by the Poe family. More lately he was with Capt. Tom Rogers, on the St. Louis and New Orleans packet W. H. Osborn. Captain Rogers was his warmest friend, taking great interest in his welfare, and befriending him by example and advice in such a manner that Henry entertained a strong affection for him. Henry was only a deck-hand or fireman, and certainly never rose to a higher grade than watchman, but he was a shrewd fellow when sober, which he generally was. He seemed contented with his position and wages, little thinking what great things were in store for him. It will be remembered with what minuteness there was published in the papers less than two years ago, an account of the discovery of the decomposing corps of a human being in the lonely room of a large building in this city. The corpse was that of a man named Sullivan. Henry Murty was this man's cousin and his heir. Sullivan was an old citizen of unsociable dispositien and habits and possessed of great wealth, as the sequel shows. Murty, as heir of the deceased, through the agency of his lawyer, Mr. Broadhead, was lately handed the sum of one hundred and ninety-five thousand dollars, and the real estate, lands and stocks which accure to him, will raise the entire amount of wealth now possessed by this lately friendless and seemingly contented Irishman, to four or five hundred thousand dollars. What'll he do with it?—St. Louis Democrat 27th.

THE March statement of the public debt is expected to show a further reduction of about seven millions.

THE stockholders in the Pan Handle Branch Railway, projected to connect the main road with Wellsburg, held a meeting in that town yesterday, to organize their company and to take other preliminary steps toward an early construction of the road.

WHEN it is desirable to know what will be the decision of Congress upon a given question, it only needs, usually, to look after BUTLER in the House, and GARRETT DAVIS in the Senate. The almost inevitable result may be found in exactly the opposite direction.

AT THE suggestion of the Secretary of War, and in view of the fact that several laws and army-regulations have been contravened by the recent order of General SHERMAN, re-organizing the Bureau-service of the Department, that order has been rescinded by the President.

THE Pittsburgh Chronicle, one of our most esteemed cotemporaries, came to us last evening in an entire new dress, looking fresh and beautiful as spring. Under the management of SIEBENECK & COLLINS, the Chronicle has achieved proud distinction as a literary and high toned daily newspaper, and this new evidence of prosperity assures us that their efforts to furnish a first class journal continue to be appreciated by the community. We wish our neighbors all the success their energy and enterprise warrant, and that is wishing very much for them.

WE CALL them "black diamonds" here—one of Pittsburgh's staple crops—the coal, without which our friends "down stream" would freeze, or if the weather was warm, would have to eat raw meat, or else turn tartars, and cook their beefsteaks under the saddle. On this "rise" we have sent out from our grimmy Golconda 3,334,000 bushels of coal, worth afloat, as the fleet leaves the receding Point in the distance, some six cents, as near as may be,—say $200,000. To this add four cents more for towage, wages of hands, etc., and we have a grand total of say $334,000, for the cash which this invoice of diamonds is to net to our people. Such jewels are not to be despised!

LOUIS LANE, wife-murderer, convicted, sentenced, prisoned and hopeless of escape, has just thirty more days to live. The warrant, read in his hearing yesterday, fixes the 29th day of April for the ghastly death-wedding which is to bring him again face to face, but only in the spirit, with his slain victim. So, here in the midst of us, surrounded by the living and hopeful freedom of the world, this strong man lies crouching in his cell, counting, each day at the stroke of noon, the one ominous clang of the great city bell which, over the murderer's head, notes one day less for him to live. Thirty days—twenty—ten—five—three—two—one—the guilty wretch, counting that significant one, as it were, inch by inch, dies his horrible punishment, crushing him yet alive, and yet not to be complete without the last penalty of all that earth may inflict. And then—

A MOTION, in the Senate yesterday, to insist upon its amendment to the office-tenure bill, and to ask for a Conference, was variously opposed. Among others, that exemplary Republican, Mr. GRIMES, did'nt like anything short of an absolute repeal. GRIMES felt tender of the President's prerogative. That is one of his chronic weaknesses. GRIMES always was tender on that point—especially about the time when his friend, an equally profound constitutional lawyer, Mr. A. JOHNSON, shared so cordially in the Senator's scruples that he dared to defy the law and GRIMES bore him out in it. Evidently, Mr. GRIMES is an authority upon this nice question. It was probably for that reason that he took a conspicuous part in the Republican caucus, held last week for the purpose of harmonizing Senatorial opinions.

However, as we have all along anticipated, the Senate insists on its amendment and has appointed a Committee of Conference. It is highly probable that the House will recede and that the higher branch of the National Legislature will be permitted to assert its prerogative.

THE Government Commissioners report that both the Union Pacific and the Central Pacific railways are equally incomplete in their construction. The two roads meeting at some point, probably beyond Monument Point, on the Salt Lake shore, will constitute the combined through line from Omaha to the Pacific coast. An effort has been industriously made, of late, to decry the hasty and imperfect structure of the Eastern section, and to convey a more favorable impression as to the Western road. It appears that each is liable to the same censure. This is in part to be explained by the failure of Congress to designate, originally, the precise point of junction, leaving each company not only free to push its track to the last possible mile, but making it for the interest of each to secure, by an imperfect and superficial construction, the liberal subsidies from the Treasury. Hence the extraordinary energy with which the ultimate connection hastens to its completion. In the meantime, the mere meeting of the rails will still leave the road but little more than half built.

CHARGES ARE MADE against Senator FENTON, of New York, that, while recently Governor of that State, he accepted a bribe of $20,000 from the Erie Railway, as the price of his Executive approval of a bill to promote the interests of that Company. Various "proofs" of this charge are submitted, in the form of hearsay testimony taken before a Legislative investigating Committee, none of which would have a feather's weight in convicting Mr. FENTON in any Court of Justice. New York politicians are usually credited with decided proclivities for corruption, but the whole world gives them also the credit for too much shrewdness to compromise themselves by a patent exposure of their performances in that line. Governor FENTON may be no more honest, or less astute, than the rest of them, but we doubt if even a dog would be hung on the "testimony" which now aims to strike him down. Because the Senator appears to wield an influence more potent with the President that any that his rivals, or enemies—equivalent terms in the New York nomenclature—can claim, he is now assailed with the always convenient and familiar charge of personal and official dishonesty. The charge may be true, but his fellow-citizens hesitate to believe it, and will rely on his ability to justify their still unshaken confidence.

REPORTS in the city journals agree that a dog, showing unmistakeable signs of rabies, was killed in Allegheny, a day or two since. From every quarter, our exchanges bring to us similar intelligence, and almost as often chronicling the cases of human beings bitten by these mad curs. How long before the Pittsburgh press will make the same announcement? And, then, our authorities may think the time has come to protect human life against the horrible taking-off which no skill can prevent, and no precautions, after the fact, can atone for. How many precious lives are all the dogs in this county worth? How many dogs must be reckoned to out-value one human life? Is there any special virtue in prevention rather than in the wretched remedy which comes halting along, after the deadly mischief has been done? We submit these problems for the reflection of the authorities.

In Councils yesterday a member introduced an ordinance, which will probably be passed, and although rather severe on the canine race, is fully justified in the fact that hydrophobia rages throughout the country, and that the members of no community are safe so long as miserable curs are allowed the full freedom of the streets. If the ordinance introduced be not adopted, let some other one be introduced by the Committee so that the Mayor may be enabled to act, as he appears to be either powerless under the present law, or else wholly indifferent to the united voices of the people who have been clamoring for protection under the dog ordinances in force. It strikes us that less energy in some directions and more in others might better enhance the reputation of his Honor, as an officer striving to obtain the good opinion of citizens generally.

DECORATION DAY.

Germans, in the Father-land, by universal and time-honored custom, decorate the graves of their dead friends on the eve of St. John, the Baptist's day, or midsummer's eve. At that time, in every city and hamlet, throngs of the flower-freighted living can be seen wending their ways to the cities of the dead. Brown, unsightly graves, and those grown dead with age, alike blossom with these sweet offerings of Memory and Love. Of course, in almost every "God's Acre," there must be some, often many, graves which have no friends; graves for the occupants of which, that trite-line "gone, but not forgotten" has no truth; for such as these, many kind-hearted friends take extra garlands along with them, so that no grave may appear slighted or neglected, an isolated commentary on human forgetfulness, when the sun of St. John's day dawns. The members of the Grand Army of the Republic have, for several years, endeavored, in a measure, to introduce this beautiful custom in our own country, by appointing, not St. John's day, but the 30th day of May as a day on which the last resting-places of our fallen braves shall be strewn with evergreens and flowers. Surely such an object should meet with no opposition, for, not the surviving friends alone of the departed, but the whole country owes, at least, one day of honor and remembrance each year, to those who have lost all in fighting and winning its battles.

We hope, now that the note of preparation has been sounded, when the thirtieth day of May comes to us again, all will be found in readiness, so that throughout the whole country, the cities of the living shall visit and adorn the cities of the dead. We feel sure, too, that no harm will be done, if some take extra garlands to place on any poor grave which may chance to be neglected, and, if that grave should not be that of a soldier, if many graves, not those of soldiers should be thus adorned—we cannot see that any wrong will be done either to the living or the dead.

CITY COUNCILS.

Mr. McClelland, a resolution authorizing the Gas Committee to have a gas lamp placed on Thirtieth street and Spruce alley. Referred to the Gas Committee.

CONTROLLER'S REPORT.

Mr. Phillips, from the Finance Committee, submitted the following report from the Controller:

In accordance with a resolution passed by Councils, I herewith submit a statement relative to the different Passenger railways, running within the city.

The Citizens Passenger railway is required to pay into the City Treasury, for the first five years, twenty dollars annually, for each car in actual service, and three per cent. of the net profits; for the next five years this road is to pay annually $30 per car in actual service, and five per cent. of the net profits. These conditions have been complied with.

The Pittsburgh and Manchester Passenger Railway is to pay into the city Treasury one hundred dollars per annum for the first five years, and thereafter two hundred dollars per year. The books in this office show that this road has paid one hundred dollars per annum to the present year. For the years 1866, 1867 and 1868, this road should have paid two hundred dollars instead of one hundred dollars.

The condition of the Pittsburgh and East Liberty Railway is the same as Citizens. There does not appear to have been anything paid into the City Treasury by this road since 1861. Neither are there any reports on file in this office since that date by the Pittsburgh and East Liberty Railway.

The Minersville Road is a branch of the Pittsburgh and East Liberty Road.

The Pittsburgh and Birmingham Passenger Railway is under the some conditions as the Citizens, with the exception that the amount paid is to be divided equally between Pittsburgh, South Pittsburgh, Birmingham and East Birmingham.

This road has complied with the requirements of the law.

The Finance Committee have had before them a bill of Allen and Dunn, referred by Councils, for repairing a sewer. The Committee return it to Council with the recommendation that the bill be paid out of appropriation No. 7; also the bill of Gallus Bauer for damages sustained by the grading of Dinwiddie street. Inasmuch as Councils appointed viewers on this matter the Committee took no action.

Also, a petition from R. C. Gray, asking that railroad iron be exempt from the taxation of twenty-five cents a ton for wharfage, was considered and the Committe recommend that the tax be discontinued.

The accompanying bills, if found correct, will be charged to contingent fund.

| | |
|---|---|
| John Trimble for posting 4,000 vehicle notices | $65,50. |
| City of Pittsburgh street crossings on Twentieth street | $115,75 |
| Total | $181,25 |

Accompanying the report was a resolution providing for the payment of the above bills.

The report was accepted and the resolution adopted.

Mr. Quinn moved that the City Solicitor be instructed to collect from the railroad companies referred to in the Controller's report the amounts due the city. Adopted.

Mr. Morrow moved that the petition of R. C. Gray, referred to in the report, be referred to the Wharf Committee.

Mr. Herron moved that the action of the Finance Committee relative to the petition be approved.

Mr. Phillips stated that as the tax referred to was imposed by ordinance, it would have to be repealed by ordinance, and he therefore moved that the matter be referred to the Ordinance Committee in conjunction with the Wharf Committee, to report an ordinance.

The Chair decided the matter out of order.

REPORT OF MARKET COMMITTEE.

Mr. McEwen, Chairman of the Market Committee, submitted the report of that Committee, as follows:

Your Committee on Markets have had before them the resolution passed by Councils February 22d, directing them to inquire into the practicability of locating a market house on Centre avenue, between Miller and Roberts streets, and beg leave to say that they have given the resolution due consideration, and respectfully return it with a negative recommendation. Your Committee do not consider it politic, in a matter of so much importance to the people interested, to place their choice within such narrow limits as are prescribed by the resolution referred to them. Your Committee, however, are unanimously of the opinion that an additional market house is really nececessary for the accommodation of that portion of our citizens residing in the upper and outer wards of the city, and therefore recommend that Councils give them authority to select a site and report the same to Councils for their approval.

Your Committee have also had under their consideration the condition of the City Hall. They devoted considerable time to a personal examination of all parts of the Hall, and regret to say that the largest, and what might be the best and most attractive hall in the city, is in a condition not at all creditable to it. The painting and frescoing are being much soiled, faded and worn off, and it has a very cheerless appearance. The want of a supper room, for the use of parties, is also very much felt, and can be very readily supplied without making any material alteration in the Hall, and at a comparatively trifling expense. Other halls in the city that are fixed up for the purpose of making money, but which ought not to be more attractive than the City Hall, are able to command from fifty to one hundred per cent. more rent than your Committee can possibly obtain for yours, and simply because they have accommodations that we cannot possibly furnish, and their halls are in an excellent condition.

Your committee therefore consider it useless to continue to rent the hall with the view of making it a paying investment, unless Councils will place it in a condition suitable for the purpose for which it was intended. After a careful consideration of the subject your Committee have concluded that $2,000 will place the hall in a condition that will enable you to realize an adequate return for your investment in it, and therefore respectfully ask you to appropriate that amount for the purpose.

Accompanying the report was a resolution authorizing the appropriation of $2,000 for the purposes named, and authorizing the Committee on Markets to select a site for a new market house and report the same to Councils.

The report was accepted and the resolutions adopted.

Mr. Holmes submitted an ordinance repealing an ordinance placing a tonnage tax on railroad iron on the Monongahela wharf.

On motion of Mr. Phillips the ordinance was referred to the Ordinance Committee in conjunction with the Wharf Committee to report an ordinance.

Mr. J. F. Slagle, City Solicitor, then read an ordinance defining the duties of the City Gauger and fixing the rates to be charged by him.

Read a second time and laid over.

Mr. Phillips presented a communication from Erney, Jagerman & Co., asking for a reduction on business tax. Referred to Finance Committee.

—In all of which business the Common Council concurred.

Council adjourned.

Common Council.

Council met at the usual hour, President Tomlinson in the chair. Present: Messrs. Albeitz, Anderson, Barr, Batchelor, Bell, Black, Boggs, Booth, Carroll, Case, Caskey, Chislett, Dunseath, Fleming, Gerner, Gildenfenney, Hare, House, Houston, Jahn, Jones, Kremer, Lanahan, McCandless, McCarthy, McClaren, McKelvy, McMasters, Meanor, Meyer, Moore, Moorhead, Morgan, Morton, Palmer, Pearson, Penney, Potts, Rebman, Reed, Rook, Rosewell, Sims, Schott, Scott, Verner, Vetter, Waughter, Weldon, Welsh, Wilson and President Tomlinson.

The minutes of preceding meeting were read and approved.

Mr. McClaren presented a resolution for gas lamps on the corner of Wood street and Virgin alley and on western side of Wood street. Referred to Gas Committee.

Mr. Rebman, a communication relative to the erection of a wooden building at the glass house of Richards, Hartly & Co., Pride street, Sixth ward. Referred to Committee on Wooden Buildings.

Mr. Black, petition for grading and paving of Thirty-first street, between Liberty street and the Allegheny river. Referred to Street Committee.

Mr. Scott, petition for extension of Butler street. Referred to Survey Committee.

Also, petition for grading and paving Hatfield street, from Forty-fourth to Forty-fifth street. Referred to Street Committee.

Mr. Chislett, a petition for grading and paving of Chestnut street, between Butler street and Greensburg Pike.

Mr. Pearson, petition to the same purport.

Referred to Street Committee.

Mr. Penny presented the draft of a proposed act of Assembly, relating to grading, paving and macadamizing streets in the consolidated territory of the city, repealing so much of the present law as requires the consent of the majority of the property holders on any street before its grading, paving or macadamizing can be authorized.

Mr. Penny stated in explanation that the object of the bill was to enable Councils to make or improve roads in the rural districts. As the law now stood their hands were tied, for unless a majority of the owners of property petitioned for the paving of streets, Councils could not authorize the same, and there would be no roads improved. It was proposed to give Councils the power of authorizing the grading and paving of streets, assessing one-third the cost thereof on the property abutting, the remaining two-thirds to be covered by a special tax to be assessed on the territory lately consolidated with the city.

After considerable discussion, resolutions were adopted approving of the act, and directing the Clerks of Council to certify the same to members of the Legislature. In S. C. the matter was postponed for the present.

Mr. Morgan offered a resolution for the appointment of a Committee on Retrenchment and Reform, as follows:

Resolved, That the Presidents of the Select and Common Councils be authorized to appoint two members of the Select and three of the Common Council, who shall constitute a Committee to be known as a Committee on Retrenchment and Reform. Adopted, and Messrs. Morgan, Jones and McClarren appointed on part of C. C. Messrs. Gallaher and Morrow were appointed in S. C.

Mr. Weldon presented the report of the Street Committee, covering a number of ordinances. For grading and paving: Fortieth street; Liberty street, from Haslett's street, to turnpike; Liberty, from Thirty-first to Thirty-second; Apple alley; Thirty-ninth street: Spruce alley, from Twenty-fourth to Twenty-fifth; Beech alley; St. Patricks alley; Irwin's alley, grading. Boardwalk on Elm street. Sewer on High street. Widening Webster avenue, from Seventh avenue to Grant street. Opening of Rose and Forty-second street. Straightening Second avenue from Birmingham bridge to Brady street. Changing salary of City Engineer (fixing it at $3,500) and requiring him to pay into the city treasury all fees for lot regulating and laying out plans of lots. The report was accepted.

The ordinances for the grading and paving of Liberty street, from Haslett to turnpike, Fortieth street from Butler to A. V. R. R., Thirty-ninth street, from Butler to A. V. R. R., and Spruce alley from Twenty-fourth to Twenty-fifth street, were read a third time and adopted, the rules having been suspended.

The remainder of the ordinances reported by the Street Committee were laid over under the rules.

Mr. Weldon presented an ordinance changing viewers for opening of Greensburg Pike, substituting James Black and Thomas Stewart for Samuel McKee (who declines) and Z. Wainwright, (now a member of Select Council.) Adopted, rules being suspended.

Also, report of viewers on opening of Aiken Avenue. Accepted and approved.

Mr. Weldon presented a petition for an ordinance changing the location of hack stands. Referred to Ordinance Committee.

Mr. Chislett, from the Survey Committee, presented plans for approval: 1. Fifth Avenue extension from present terminus at Barker's Hotel to Finley's ice pond, called Silver Lake; 2. Grade plan of Center Avenue from Kirkpatrick street to Neville street; 3. Grade plan of Herron Avenue from Center Avenue to Iowa street.

Action upon the plans was deferred until next meeting.

A resolution was adopted authorizing the Controller to certify a warrant in favor of Capt. S. B. Cooper, Messenger of Councils, for sundry bills, amounting to $33.30.

Mr. Case offered a resolution authorizing the Committee on Fire Engines and Hose to locate the hook and ladder apparatus, purchased some time since, in the engine house deemed most suitable. Adopted.

Mr. Caskey offered a resolution instructing the Street Committee to place a flag stone crossing on Try street at the intersection of Second avenue. Referred to Street Committee.

Mr. Houston presented an ordinance concerning dogs, and asked its reference to the Committee on Ordinances. It was so referred.

The ordinance provides that from, and after the date of its enactment, no dog shall be permitted to run at large in the city without having on his neck a collar with name and residence of owner engraved thereon, and the dog must also wear a muzzle fixed in such a manner as to prevent his biting. That every possessor or owner of dog or dogs, must pay into the City Treasury, an annual tax or license for each of the same, the sum of two dollars and fifty cents. That it shall be the duty of dog owners to report the fact of their possession, to the City Treasurer, at such times as that officer may hereafter designate, by published proclamation, and shall pay the required license at the same time. Vagabond dogs caught in the market houses of the city are to be killed without ceremony by the market constables, and their owners are to be fined fifteen dollars for permitting them to run at large. That every dog found running at large contrary to the provisions of the ordinance within ten days after its enactment is declared to be a common and public nuisance, and shall be liable to be seized and killed by any person authorized by the Mayor, and for every dog so killed and the carcass properly disposed of, the Mayor is authorized to pay by a warrant drawn on the city treasury the sum of fifty cents, and, if the owner of such dog shall be known or found, he shall forfeit and pay for each dog so left running at large the sum of ten dollars. That any person interfering with the execution of this ordinance by authorized persons, shall forfeit and pay for every such offence the sum of twenty-five dollars.

Mr. Weldon presented an act creating a Paid Fire Department in the city of Pittsburgh.

Mr. McClaren objected to the consideration of the proposed act.

Mr. Reed desired to know where it came from?

The President—It came from the member from the Fifth ward, Mr. Weldon.

Mr. Reed moved its reference to the Ordinance Committee.

Mr. Weldon moved a suspension of the rules.

The rules were not suspended, there being but twenty voting in the affirmative.

The proposed act therefore was laid over.

An ordinance from Select Council in relation to City Code, adopting the city ordinances as codified by a Committee, was concurred in—ayes 25, nays 20.

Mr. McCandless asked leave to change his vote.

Leave was granted, and Mr. McCandless, changing his vote from nay to aye, moved a reconsideration of the vote concurring in the ordinance.

The motion to reconsider was lost—ayes 25, nays 26.

Mr. Chislett presented an ordinance providing "that if any person shall wilfully gallop or trot any horse or mule across the public crossings of the city, and shall be legally convicted, every person so offending shall forfeit and pay for every such offense a fine not exceeding five dollars nor less than one dollar, to be collected as other fines of the city."

Rules suspended and the ordinance adopted. Not acted on in Select Council.

Mr. Gildenfenny called up the petition for the re-location and re survey of Ridge street, in S. C., Feb. 13th, referred to Survey Committee, and same day in C. C. laid on table. Former action was receded from and action of S. C. concurred in.

Mr. Morgan offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Solicitor be instructed to proceed against the late firm of Knapp, Rudd & Co., or any others using or owning the same, for any amount that may be due the city for the use of the switch on Twelfth, formerly O'Hara street. Adopted. Not acted on in S. C.

A resolution from Select Council, laid on the table at a previous meeting, directing the appointment of a special committee to negotiate for the purchase of the turnpikes and plank roads within the consolidated city, and report to Councils, was concurred in. ### A SIGNIFICANT LETTER.

LOUISVILLE, March 22d, 1869.—Find enclosed P. O. order for * * * which you will please place to my credit, and send immediately half a gross of Blood Searcher, and a full supply of circulars.

The demand for your medicine is gradually increasing, and I believe will eventually take the place of other similar preparations, now being extensively advertised throughout Kentucky and the Southern States, but there is little advertising needed that will reach the masses. Circulars will do very well in the locality where the Blood Searcher is sold, but the greater number are only to be reached through the medium of a popular newspaper, a few insertions is all that is required. Let the people of Kentucky once know that DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER can be had at the Medicine and Toilet Depot, Louisville, Kentucky, and I guarantee a profitable return. I have an extensive acquaintance throughout Kentucky and the South, and though I claim not to be an exception to the generality of my fellows, I flatter myself that the name of W. W. WILLIAMS, as Agent for the Blood Searcher, will at least not lessen the demand, but on the contrary, will induce many to take hold of it, and when they have done so it will matter very little who is the Agent, or where it comes from, DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER will be the medicine they have tested and what they will want. The Blood Searcher is doing good work in this locality. There are numbers to whom I have recommended it for dyspepsia, and as a general Tonic, and in every case I have had a good report. There is a gentleman in business opposite my store who has been confined to his room since July last with scrofula, a physician attending every day, and getting no better. Soon after I received your first consignment I sent him one of your circulars, but it was some time before I heard from him, and not until I sent Mr. Boyd over to see him did he conclude to try it. He is now getting well, and regrets that he did not adopt the remedy sooner. His case was as bad if not worse than that of Mr. Boyd, and will prove a valuable acquisition to the list of cures. Allow me to congratulate you on your removal to your new store, with the hope that it it will in no way detract from your former prosperity. Respectfully,

W. W. WILLIAMS.

To DR. KEYSER, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher is sold by the gross, dozen or single bottle, AT HIS NEW MEDICINE STORE, No. 67 LIBERTY STREET, one door from Sixth.

Consulting Rooms, No. 120 Penn street.

THE TRYING SEASON.

The searching winds, the cold, drizzling rains, the heavy fogs, and occasional warm and moist days of March, render it upon the whole, the most unhealthy month of the year. Its depressing influences are especially unfavorable to invalids, and thousands of persons with feeble constitutions, who have borne the winter bravely, break down in the first month of Spring. The variations of temperatvre and cold east winds are a serious trial to the dyspeptic and bilious, whose symptoms they invariably aggravate. Intermittent fever is also rife wherever there is evolvable poison in the water or the soil. To enable the system to combat these evils, there is nothing like a good vegetable tonic and among this class of medicines HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS stand supreme. Medical men prescribe it in preference to any of the tonic preparations of the pharmacopoia. They are aware that the ordinary tincture and extracts are all based upon cheap alcohol, which is surcharged with an acrid essential oil, and absolutely poisonous. They know, on the other hand, that the rectified essence of the finest rye grown in this country is the sole spirituous ingredient of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, and that the vegetable medicinal elements of which it is composed are of rare efficacy. Hence, it has the confidence of physicians, and finds its way into hospitals where no other proprietary medicine is sanctioned.

A course of the BITTERS is especially recommended to persons of delicate habit, of both sexes at this season. In the fever and ague districts of the West and South, quinine has been almost universally discarded as a chologogue, and this valuable antidote to malarious disorders adopted in its stead. A double gain is realized by the change, for the Bitters, unlike that dangerous alkaloid, are agreeable to the palate, and their curative effect is much more permanent.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, March 29, 1869.

The increase in our imports during the present month, and the great reduction of the available gold in the market for ordinary business purposes, have advanced the premium to-day ¼ per cent. despite the tightness of the money market. Unless the May interest is clandestinely anticipated by some large houses, the entire amount of gold now in the banks will be used during the first half of next month for custom house purposes. We say clandestinely, because a general anticipation of the May coupons would not relieve the present demand for gold, for the reason that nearly all the coupon bonds are held by Europeans and nobody would profit by it. But the foreign capitalists, even our own resident foreign bankers, could not profit by it, as the gold so received would have to be shipped to Europe and our own investors in registering bonds would have to wait to May next. All the possible good derived from such a measure would be a rapid advance of the gold premium, and an increased export of our produce and cotton.

Government bonds declined about ¼ per cent. from Saturday's quotations, with a very dull market and more sellers than buyers. To-morrow and Wednesday is likely to see a further decline, for want of means by speculators to carry their bonds, or to buy for a rise. The continued drafts on the eastern banks for currency have drained these institutions to such an extent, that they are no longer able to carry their friends' bonds, even at an enormous rate of interest. The balance of this week is likely to witness as tight a money market as we ever had. Although banks, bankers and prudent merchants are prepared for it in time, it is only the improvident who always come in at the latest hour, that will have to pay for their want of forethought.

Stocks were well sustained and even higher than last week. The principal support of the market are the clique of the Erie Railroad with their brokers' connections, and the large speculative banking firm of Smith, Gould & Warson. These parties have borrowed money at cheap rates, and carry all the stocks they hold throug any kind of money market.

Epress shares were firm, Mining shares more active, and some miscellaneous shares were inquired for at the decline.

Business dull; money twelve per cent.

NEW YORK, March 29, 1869.

Money active and stringent at 7 per cent. in gold and the same in currency, with commissions of 1-32@⅛ per cent. Banks called in loans freely, owing to the great demand for currency from the interior. There were some heavy loans notified for to-morrow, and indications point to a severe week in the money market. City banks are getting down to their legal reserve and are cautious. Doubts are entertained whether the heavy shipments of legal tenders to Philadelphia, for some days past, have been entirely to satisfy legitimate demands. Discounts dull at 10@12 per cent. The statement made Saturday relative to the Michigan Southern and Erie roads was somewhat incorrect. The Erie in January, 1868, made a contract with the Michigan Southern, by which the former was to build a road from Akron to Toledo, and the latter to lay a third rail from Toledo to Chicago. The contract holds good, but nothing has yet been done to carry it into effect.

Sterling is dull at 8⅛@8¼ per cent. for sixty day bills, and 8⅜@8½ per cent. for sight and cable transactions.

Gold was firmer and opened at 131½, and closed at 131⅜@131½, cash. Gold scarce, and the rates paid for borrowing was 2 per cent. and 1-64 and flat, and for carrying 2-31, 2-34 and 1-16 per cent.

Governments dull and ¼@⅓ per cent. lower. The offerings seem designed rather to make quotations than sales: Coupons of '81, 115½@115¾; do. '62, 118½@117¾; do. '64, 113¾@114; do. '65, 115½@115¾; new do., 112¾@113; do. '67, 112¾@113; do. '68, 112⅞@113; 10-40s, 105@105¼; Pacific Sixes, 104¼@104¾.

State Bonds are dull; Missouris 87½; old Tennessees 64⅞@65; new do. 64@64¼; old North Carolinas 63@63¼; new do, 57¼@58.

The stock market during the morning was feverish, yet considering the high rates for money prices were well supported by principal holders of leading shares, and were fortified against a stringency by time loans. The market continued dull and heavy most of the day until late in the afternoon, when prices fell off a little, and closing heavy.

5-30 Prices—Cumberland, 33½; Wells Express, 30½@31; American, 40¾@41½; Adams, 58⅝@58¾; Merchants Union, 15@16½; Quicksilver, 19¾@20; Canton, 58¾@59; Pacific Mail, 90¾@90¾; Western Union Telegraph, 37¾@38; Mariposa, 18¾; do. preferred, 34¾@34¼; New York Central, 159⅜@159½; Erie, 34⅜@35; Hudson, 138@138¼; Harlem, 135¼@156; Reading, 91½@91¼; Terre Haute, 36@38; Wabash, 66¾@67; St. Paul, 70¾@71; do. preferred, 78¼@78¾; Fort Wayne, 123⅜@123¾; Ohio & Mississippi, 32¼@32½; Michigan Central, 118; Pittsburgh, 88; Toledo, 106¼@106¾; Rock Island, 131@131¼; Northwestern, 82¾@83; do preferred, 91¼@91½; Burlington and Quincy, 172; Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati & Indianapolis, 65; St. Joseph, 117; Dubuque & Sioux City, 114¾; Lake Shore, 106¾.

Mining Shares dull.

Copper Stocks at Boston—Copper Falls, 9; Franklin, 16; Hancock, 4; Minnesota, 2; Quincy, 20.

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, March 29, 1869.

CATTLE—There was a larger supply of Cattle on sale to-day, than usual, about nine hundred and thirty head, and with only a moderate demand, the market was a very dull one, and when we left the yards, at ten o'clock A. M., it looked as if there would be a good many left over unsold. There was little or no inquiry for shipment, and, as already noted, the supply way too large for the butchers, though the stock on sale, as a general thing, was rather better than last week, and the most fastidious butcher had no difficulty in being suited. In regard to prices, there is but little change compared with last week the fact is, Cattle are too high in th country to admit of any decline her without the seller sustaining a loss, an the trade is in a very unsatisfactory co dition for both drovers and butche though that could be desired for stock growers.

There is another drawback in this n ket, and that is the credit system, a the great difficulty in making col tions. It seems impossible to do bu ness regularly here without selling m or less on time, and this generally sults in the creation of some bad deb butchers, as a class, are good pay, no withstanding they are sometimes, lik other people, hard-up and compelled, occasionally, to ask time. We are informed that one firm, sold $4,700 worth of stock last Monday, on which less than three hundred dollars were collected.

S. Lowensteine 18 Chicago steers, at 6,75@7,60; J. Kauffman 6 head mixed stock; Stakely Bro. 15 head mixed, at 5 to 7; L. Rothchilds 32 Chicago steers, at 7¼@8¼; A. Katz 14 head Chicago bulls, at 5@6½; 18 head steers, at 6¼@7¼; J. Needy 37 Chicago steers, at 6@8¾; Haas Kraus 35 Chicago steers, at 6¾@7¾; Greenwald & Kahn 57 do do, at 7¼@8½; M. Verner 34 mixed stock at 6½@8; C. Metz 4 head, heavy Washington Co. oxen averaging about 1,700, at 8¼; I. Zeigler 21 Chicago steers, at 7@7¾; Jas. McAllister 12 Ohio cattle, at 6½@8¾; L. Keefer 32 Chicago steers, at 6¼@8; Hazlewood & Blackstock 50 head Ohio and Iowa steers, at 5½@8½; P. Hartman 18 Chicago steers, at 6¼@7¼; Traurman & Lobman' 80 do do, at 6,80@8,00; S. Marks & Bro. 58 mixed stock, at 7¼@8¾; L. & J. Shamberg 80 head mixed stock, at 6@8¼; Holmes, Lafferty & Co, 235 head—only sold 50, at 6¼@8¼; balance drove over to Central Yards; Smith & Blue 21 head cows, heifers and bulls, at 5@6¼; Nicholas Carr 18 head, at 6¼@8¼; Hedges & Taylor 51 from Ohio, at 6@7¼.

SHEEP—The supply of Sheep although light, was nevertheless larger than it has been for several weeks past, and, at present prices, considerably in excess of the demand. There were but very few good Sheep; the great bulk of the offerings consisting of poor and commonish truck, not the kind that our best butchers are accustomed to buying. The sales reported were as follows:

J. Davis sold 84 head Beaver county stock, for Meanor, at an average of 7 cts.

Alexander sold 187 head from Mercer county, at $2 per head, to 6 cts per pound.

Adam Eckert 35 head from Armstrong county, at 5¼.

Emerick & Co. 55 head from Ohio, at 7@7¼. Stakely & Bro. 54—unsold.

James Shaw 67 head—expected to average 6 cts.

C. H. Moulton sold 28, at 5½; Charles Metz 45 head from Washington county, averaging 109 lbs at 6½; John Kerwin 45, at 5@7¾.

HOGS—The market is dull in consequence of the warm weather, which usually restricts the retail demand. In a retail way, prices may be given at 11@13 cts gross, for common to prime heavy averages.

Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, March 29.—The weather is inclement, but nevertheless there is a a fair inquiry for seasonable styles at the low rates prevalent. Ellenton D Brown Muslin is reduced to 12½c, and Slater's bleached do do 15c. In other classes of goods there is no important change to observe. Prints in steady request at 11½@12½c for Amoskeag. Richmonds and Spragues heavy Sheetings bring 15@15½@16½c, inside for seconds. Standard Brown Drills 17c. Pipka Cottonades rule low at 18c to 27c. Cotton Yarns are in good supply and fair request at 38½@40c, but jobbing at 41½@42½c. Carpet Warps are in good request, and good brands job at 2@2¼c cash. Meritte are active at 62½c for Hansdales fancy. Woolens, in Spring weights, are plenty and dull; market is depressed. Crashes and Linen clothings are dull and heavy; fine linen fabrics are less plenty and firm in prices as are Silks and Irish Poplins, which rule steady. Black Alpaccas are in good request at 35c@$1,05, Mikako Poplins, in mixtures, are in good demand at $1,25 to $1,20 for 20 and 28 inch.

TOLEDO, March 29.—Flour dull. Wheat inactive; amber opened at $1,45 and closed 1c lower; No. 1 white Michigan 2½c better, selling at $1,72½; No. 2 red $1,31; No. 1 Miami red $1,35. Receipts—2,800 bbls flour; wheat, 16,600 bush; corn, 12,600 bush.

NATURE AND ART IN EUROPE.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PRAGUE, February 1, 1869.

Partings are never pleasant things to linger over, and I shall say little of our's in Dresden, of the calls of friends or the hearty farewells from the waiters or house-maids, who had learned to consider us as friends in our three months' stay. At the door of the "Curlaender House stood a smiling and bowing group, stout but handsome hostess, shrill maiden sister, rosy waitresses; and, in a perfect storm of good-byes, hand-kissings and some tears from the easily moved kindly German hearts, we drove off, and our winter in Dresden was ended. Not quite—for, as the train moved into the flat plains behind the city, the well known dome of the "Frauen Kirche," the graceful spires of the "Sophien Kirche," and many other well known land marks, rose above the trees, giving us one more unexpected view.

Soon we were deep in among the grand rocks and wild ravines of "The Saxon Switzerland." What a pity it is people should name one beautiful place after another, especially where it provokes comparison! Seeing these lovely views for the first time, under a name of their own, I should at once have been full of delight and admiration, but, as it was, I kept uttering little contemptuous expressions over every new view, "Yes, that is pretty, but what do they call it Switzerland for, it is not that at all?" Gradually I forgot the name and thought only of the beauty. Great walls of rock rising from the river, every now and then a solitary one, crowned by a gray rim and a castle still inhabited, wild ravines opening back from the river, with a picturesque hamlet clinging to the narrow strip of ground between rock and stream, rolling hills covered with vineyards, the loose soil in many places only kept from slipping into the river, lying far below, by little low fences of wicker work. All these varied beauties succeeding one another until the day light faded, and then showing in her beauty under the soft white moonlight.

The city looked modern with its wide streets and bright shops, as we drove to our hotel, but the morning light showed it quaint and foreign enough. In the cars, whenever a stretch of flat country allowed us to look away from the windows, we studied faithfully our invaluable "Baedecker's Guide Book," which only a patient German could have written! And this morning so well posted were we that we snubbed one Commissioner after another, until we shook them off and went our way unmolested.

We found without difficulty the old Hussite Church, with its two square towers of old grey stone. The front is quite covered up by mean shops, and you stumble along a dark, narrow, uneven passage, with many a poor old beggar, telling his beads and begging between his prayers, sitting on stone seats near the church door. The interior was very lofty, with five simple Gothic arches, but spoiled by the many shrines stuck all about. Its conversion to Catholicism has not improved its beauty.

Out again into the square, before the old Town Hall, where twenty-eight Protestant nobles lost their heads after the last battle in which the Reformation in Bohemia was crushed. Then up the steep hill, towards the "Hradschin," or citadel, stopping to look at many queer churches, houses and statues.

You notice at once the contrast between North and South Germans, the many dark skins, the greater poverty and more frequent beggary among the people, and everywhere along side of the German signs and notices, the strange Sclavonic tongue, with its utterly unknown accents and letters. After a steep climb we reached the "Hradschin." It is a collection of palaces, a citadel and a cathedral, crowning a high steep hill, overlooking the town. Its deep moat is now a pleasure-garden, and green grass and beautiful trees clothe its steep sides.

The palaces, like most I have seen, look dreary enough. Whatever they may have been when knights in bright armor, guards, servants and hangers-on of all kinds made the great courts gay with life; now deserted and bare, with only here and there a lonesome, chill-looking sentry. They are dismal and comfortless enough, and I actually feel sorry for the poor mortals condemned to live in such long, dismal piles of brick and stone.

The cathedral is but a fragment; only the choir and great tower ever having been finished. But these are beautiful examples of Gothic architecture. Fire and Prussian cannon-balls have injured but not spoiled it. The choir is rich in carvings, with great flying buttresses like those at Cologne, while the tower, having lost two hundred feet in a fire, still rises grandly to the height of three hundred feet. Its very half-ruined, fragmentary state seemed to add to its beauty. It is undergoing a thorough restoration, and a placard on the door informed us that strangers were not admitted. It is convenient sometimes not to understand German; so we walked in and were repaid by glimpses of noble arches, and tantalized by scaffolding that completely hid the roof of the choir.

Our good Baedeckker told us of a fine monastery near by, "the richest in Austria," from which a grand view was to be obtained, and after a long and amusing search we found it, and in answer to our modest ring and request for admittance were informed, "gentlemen could enter, but ladies not!" As we picked our way through the dirty court yard, which, on first sight, we supposed led to a stable, I could not help attributing the dirt to this same rigid exclusion of ladies, even a few, as occasional visitors would have dropped hints that might have led to reform! Determined not to lose our view, we followed a road that skirted round the monastery, and had just passed an archway, when out rushed a soldier with such looks of alarm, he must have suspected us of being spies, bent upon the destruction of the Austrian Empire. "You can't come in here!" he shouted, but quieting down at our polite answer, he told us only soldiers were admitted there; so between monks and soldiers we were cheated of our view. But, after a brisk walk to the Belvidere Villa, built some three hundred years ago, we did get a view after all, beautiful enough to compensate for our loss. The villa stands on the side of the deep moat opposite the Hradschin, and from the roof of its piazza you have a magnificent view. The city lies far below you, circled by the Moldau, and shut out by hills. Near, at your right hand, rises the steep hill, crowned by the Hradschin, the steep, green slope, crowned by grey old walls, with red roofed turrets, shutting in long lines of palaces, and the beautiful cathedral, with its noble tower, a fitting crown to the whole. You could see the slender suspension bridge, spanning the Moldau, and the old stone bridge, with its many statues, and two great towers at each end.

The villa consists of two large, long rooms, the lower one having once been filled with statues, the upper with its walls still bright with frescoes, illustrating the history of Bavaria; it is ungarnished and dilapidated now. Our guide—an old Hungarian soldier, with bottle nose and skin so weather-beaten that it looked like anything but flesh and blood, was quite pathetic over the condition of things, mournfully shaking his head and shrugging his shoulders as he pointed out here and there, places where statues used to stand. We left him equally gratified with a fee and compliments to his German, which was more civilized than the Bohemian jargon which we had in vain tried to comprehend.

Descending steep and winding paths through the Volk's Garten, we came to Wallenstein's Palace, a dull, grey, ugly pile. Hearing some one call as we crossed the court, I was alarmed to see a huge fellow in black cocked hat, trimmed with silver, long coat touching the ground, lined with black fur, and turnig over at the collar, and cuffs so deep and long and black, that he looked like a grizley bear on his hind legs. This alarming vision beckoned us to come to him, and we with difficulty learned that we were to wait there till some one came. The "some one" appeared in the shape of a nice young woman, who led us along a chilly dark hall and ushered us into Wallenstein's bath-room, surely the dismalist place I ever saw, designed to represent a cave, with stalactites pendant from roof and sides, they looked like dirty sponges, and I shuddered as she spoke of a "douche" passing through it, a door opened into a summer dining-room, a kind of lofty porch, entirely open on one side, looking into the garden, the walls and roof covered with faded frescoes. It was shockingly dirty, but one could fancy a bright picture of knights and ladies feasting there. Just beyond was a small room with Wallenstein's horse, which he rode at the battle of Luetzen; the poor animal was rather the worse for moths, having very little hair on his body, and a very new head added lately, far too fine for his time-worn body. Here were two miserable portraits of Wallenstein and his wife. The place is still in the possession of his descendants.

Again across the old bridge, with its queer statues. One represents the release of souls from Purgatory, three wretches are tied together and making a lusty outcry, judging from their faces; a wolf guards the door on one side and a scowling Turk on the other; from above a Saint is helping a sinner through a hole in the roof; high above sits the Deity to whom another Saint is presenting broken handcuffs and chains! About the middle of the bridge is a great gilt crucifix, with two draped statues on either side, in grey stone; an inscription tells that this was erected by a fine imposed upon a blasphemous Jew for reviling the Cross in the year 1006. Every man as he passes raises his hat, and the women cross themselves, though as they do not look up or cease their talk or occupations it does not strike one as a very religious ceremony.

After nearly five hours of walking and enjoyment we were very willing to leave the Jewish quarter till the next day.

The oldest Synagogue, a queer, rude looking building, was founded early in the Thirteenth Century. Our guide told us it was the oldest in the world and the only Gothic one. You stumble down seven rude steps, go through a dark anteroom, and warned by the guide's voice, avoid falling down ten more into the church. The beautiful Gothic arches rise dark and dim above you, and are beautiful in spite of the dust and dirt of ages. It has a strangely old, mouldering look, and I think the very dust must be sacred, for it cannot have been cleaned for hundreds of years. An old man was arranging candles at each seat in preparation for the evening service, and the desks were coated inches deep with the grease. Certainly the Jewish hatred of Gentiles has been considerably softened, for when we asked if strangers were allowed to witness their services, our witherad guide answered, "Certainly; to us there are no strangers." This old gentleman looked carefully after our interests, on coming out there stood the little black-eyed ragamuffin, who had guided us, waiting to conduct us to the old burying ground, and with him a ragged companion. "No, no," said our old guide, "Not two, one is enough!" And the man at the grave yard gate administered a gentle rebuke to us because we gave our little guide too much. We have found no Christian so careful for our interests.

The last interment in this strange old place was in 1780; the first our guide assured us was 1,200 years ago. A hundred years more or less matters little to such an age as that! Hundreds of old-time worn stones are crowded close together, (for the dead lie buried four deep,) covered with Hebrew inscriptions and overgrown with bushes and creeping plants. In one place trees and stones were broken and fallen together, where the balls from the Swedish bombardment struck them in 1848. Here and there a stone was covered thick with small stones and pebbles. "We do not use flowers to show our remembrance of the dead," said our guide, "but stones." Somehow it seemed in keeping with the dreariness and desolation of the place. We found our way back to Christendom through the very heart of the "old clothes" district, a long narrow street, which on both sides was divided into small dark shops, far too small to contain the wealth of old rags, which overflowed into the street and fluttered from poles overhead. At the door of each shop, on the narrow sidewalk, sat the shop women, almost covered up in their fluttering wares and busily mending old garments, already a mass of patches. Whoever buys such old things one cannot but wonder, but the traders are busy and lively and preternaturally ugly! If there are still beautiful Jewesses in the world, they do not walk the streets of Prague.

FRANCESCA.

A RIDICULOUS scene occurred on Tuesday night at the New York State Poultry Exhibition. Horace Greeley attempted to deliver an address, but the cocks crowed, ducks quacked, geese hissed, dogs howled and mules brayed to such an extent that after trying for half an hour to make himself heard, Mr. Greeley surrendered, declaring "poultry a nuisance, anyhow." Everybody present was convulsed with laughter, and the venerable editor of the Tribune retired in anger and disgust.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Notice to Our Readers.—Any subscriber proposing to remove on the first of April, should leave the number of his present residence, and of that to which he designs removing, at our counting room, so that his paper may be left without interruption by the carrier.

Alleged Robber Arrested.—Chief of Police Bowden yesterday arrested, in Allegheny, Charles St Clair, a young man suspected of being one of the parties who stole from Noble's jewelry store, on Smithfield street, a case of rings valued at nearly three hundred dollars about four weeks ago.

Beat his Wife.—Mary Kahler made information before the Mayor yesterday, charging her husband, John Kahler, with assault and battery, in which she alleges that he beat her shamefully. He was arrested, and after a hearing, held to bail for his appearance at Court, in default of which he was committed to jail.

Interesting.—The beautiful painting of Egypt and the Holy Land, will be exhibited in the First Presbyterian Church, Beaver street, Allegheny, (Rev. E. E. Swift, Pastor,) on Tuesday night. This will be a rare opportunity of spending a pleasant evening in looking upon the hallowed places, spoken of in the Bible, for the small sum of twenty-five cents.

Lecture.—Mrs. Barclay, of Chicago, will deliver a free lecture before the ladies of Pittsburgh, this afternoon at 3:30, at Dr. Howard's Church, Penn street, on the "Causes of the early physical decline of American women, and how to train children in order to secure to them the highest physical, moral and mental beauty."

One of those fine dwellings for which Lincoln avenue is so justly admired is advertised for sale. This is a rare chance, and parties contemplating securing a right house in the right place, and in a charming, social neighborhood, would do well to embrace the present opportunity. See advertisement of "West End Dwelling."

Information Wanted.—Robert W. Alexander, a youth of fourteen years, it appears from a letter received by Chief of Police Butler, was induced to leave his home and friends at Hummelstown, Pa., about six weeks since, and he is supposed to be in this city. Any person having information of his whereabouts, are requested to communicate it to the Chief of Police Joseph A. Butler.

Coroner's Inquest. — In yesterdays GAZETTE, we published an account of an accident at Camp Hill, near Mansfield, but were unable to give any particulars. The Coroner, yesterday evening, held an inquest on the body of deceased, whose name was Thomas Hall. The jury found that he came to his death by being run over by a train of cars, on the Panhandle Railroad. The deceased, it appears, was intoxicated and was walking on the track.

Death of H. B. Williamson.—The well known colored barber of Federal street, Allegheny, died on Sunday and will be buried this day, at 1 o'clock P. M., from No. 190 Federal street. Among our colored citizens, Mr. Williamson was a representative man. By many years of industry and economy he accumulated a handsome competency, and being justly esteemed by the white as well as the colored community, was influential in advancing the interests of his race, to which his death will be felt as a grievous loss. Following so quickly that of the late venerable Parker Sorrel, a vacancy is made among the more deserving and prominent colored citizens, which it will be hard to fill.

A Dog for "Keiser."

Mr. William Ashfield made information before the Mayor yesterday, charging Patrick Gilson with keeping a ferocious dog. It appears that Gilson was the unfortuate possessor of a "snarling cur," which wilfully and maliciously did bite and lacerate the leg of defendants wife. Gilson was arrested, and on condition that he would dispose of the ferocious brute and paying the costs, was discharged. If "Keiser" wants to buy a dog, he can get this one cheap, as he will dispose of him upon the most reasonable terms.

The Sunday Liquor Law.

Sunday night, the Allegheny Polise picked up a man in an intoxicated condition on Federal street. He was locked up until yesterday morning, when, upon being questioned, he said he had purchased the liquor on Sunday, at the saloon of James Henderson, under the Grant House, Federal street. Henderson was subsequently arrested, acknowledged to the violation of the law, in selling the liquor, and paid the penalty attached, fifty dollars, when he was relased. It is proper to say, for the proprietors of the Grant House, that he has no connection with the saloon, further than renting the premises to Henderson.

Educational.

One of the oldest established and best institutions of its character in this vicinity is the Allegheny City Academy of Science, located over the Allegheny Savings Bank, 101 Federal street, Allegheny. Here are taught, by competent and experienced teachers, all the branches of a practical, commericial, scientific or classical education, the course being so regulated that the pupil, while securing the elemental principles of the studies, does so generally in a much shorter time than is usually employed elsewhere. This has been the experience of the pupils in attendance heretofore, and who have finished their course at the Academy. Any of our readers who wish to attend a good school would consult their own interests by addressing or calling on Prof R. S. Robb, Principal of this institution, for a circular.

The Mercantile Library.

We have received a copy of the twenty-first annual report of the Young Men's Mercantile Library Association, and are pleased to see set down in black and white that the institute is in so flourishing a condition, although we are sorry to note that the balance in the treasury is quite small—smaller even than it was last year. The number of books has been increased by the addition of 741 volumns, making it now 8,948. Although this is encouraging, it is not what it should be in so large a city, and it seems that by the increase of membership alone can it be largely added to. When the new building is completed we hope that its beauty and convenience may attract many persons who are not now in the habit of enjoying its privileges. We printed a detailed account, some time ago, of the plan for the new building, as given in a letter from Felix R. Brunot, Esq., to the President, Joseph Albree. A neat lithograph of it, as it is to be, adorns the report before us, and we feel safe in saying that no more beautiful building than this will be, when completed, can be found in the cities.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

Allegheny County Teacher's Institute—Ninth Annual Session—First Day's Proceedings—Organization, &c., &c.,

The Allegheny County Teachers' Institute is an organization of the public school teachers in the county, authorized by the school laws of the State, and required to convene annually, the time and place of holding the session being optional with the County Superintendent. Every teacher in the county, with the exception of those in Pittsburgh, which is now an independent school district, is expected to be in attendance, and will be paid, if demanded, for the time spent the same as if teaching in the school room. Absentees, unless for good reasons, are liable to have their want of professional zeal and spirit indicated by certificates of a lower grade at the next examination. The object is to awaken among the teachers and public at large a renewed interest and earnestness in the public schools, and by lectures from experienced educators, discussions and other exercises, to suggest and illustrate better methods of conveying instruction, thus aiding teachers in their work and securing from the system of common schools the greatest amount of benefit.

The Institute for this county commenced its ninth annual session yesterday morning, in the hall of the Fourth ward School House, Penn street, near St. Clair. The meeting was called to order at ten o'clock by A. T. Douthett, County Superintendent, who will preside during the session. The Superintendent in calling the meeting to order took occasion to refer to the condition of educational affairs in the county. He said there never was a time when a deeper interest was taken in the cause of education than at the present time, nor when greater progress was observable. He also referred to the change of feelings exhibited by the teachers in regard to the Institutes and spoke of the increased interest taken in the annual meetings. From the large attendance at the opening session, he felt confident that the present would be the largest Institute ever held here.

The proceedings were opened with prayer by Rev. Mr. Mortimer, after which the Philharmonic Society from Allegheny, Prof. M. Watt leader, and Miss Rosa M. Frisbee organist, entertained the Institute with some excellent music. The organ used for the instrumental musical exercises is a five-octavo Burdett, kindly furnished by Messrs Kleber & Bro.

The chairman announced that the election of officers was next in order.

Mr. Mellon, Principal of the Seventh ward, Allegheny, was chosen Vice President. and B. F. Gamber, of the Sixth ward, Allegheny; J. Morrow, of South Pittsburgh; Fulton Phillips, Fourth ward, Allegheny, and J. K. Bane, of Lower St. Clair township, were chosen Secretaries.

Some time was occupied in preparing a roll of the members of the Institute, each teacher being required to furnish name, grade of certificate, name of district, name of school, postoffice address, term of months taught, days given by School Board for attending Institute, and salary received.

On motion, Messrs. Montgomery, Logan, Snodgrass and Cargo were selected to conduct the election of the Committee on Permanent Certificates.

The chairman announced that the following gentlemen had been nominated as members of the Committee on Permanent Certificates; Messrs. T. Phillips, W. A. Johnston, J. Morrow, Benjamin Jones and J. T. M'Clymonds.

Rev. Mr. Caruthers, of Allegheny, was then introduced and delivered an address upon the "Religious Culture in Schools." The speaker spoke at some length on the influence of religious instruction in the schools and urged that it was elevating in the highest sense of the word. He urged Bible lessons each day, the exclusion of all text books tainted with infidelity, and the employment of teachers who are educated in religious matters, as well as in the sciences.

Upon the conclusion of the address, on motion, Messrs. Phillips, of Allegheny, McClymonds, of East Birmingham, and Bane, of Lower St. Clair township, were appointed a committee on resolutions.

On motion of Mr. McClymonds, the time for adjournment was fixed at 11:45 A. M. The time for adjourning the afternoon and evening session was not fixed. The morning session then adjourned.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Institute convened at two o'clock, Superintendent Douthett in the chair. The exercises were opened with a vocal selection by the Philharmonic Society, entitled,

"Joyful, joyful be our numbers."

The first business on the programme, the election of a Committee on Permanent Teachers, was proceeded with, the election being by ballot. While the tickets were being prepared Miss H. Mulhattan, a teacher in the Sixth ward schools, Allegheny, read in excellent style an essay entitled "Earth Life," in which she argued that the cultivation of the moral and, next the intellectual capacities of the scholars, was the greatest work of the teacher. The argument was enforced by several practical and beautiful illustrations, which developed a facility and strength of composition of no ordinary character. At the conclusion of this exercise, the Philharmonic Society again favored the audience with a song, after which Prof. B. G. Northrop, Secretary of the Connecticut Board of Education, delivered an address, urging upon the teachers the importance of making more prominent in their instructions the study of spelling and reading. He argued that scholars before they were twelve years of age, under competent instruction, should master perfectly the essential principles of spelling and reading, which would thereafter do much toward rendering more difficult studies interesting and attractive.

At the conclusion of this address the institute adjourned until seven o'clock.

EVENING SESSION.

Institute convened at seven o'clock.

The exercises were opened with singing by a Juvenile glee club from one of the schools, followed by the Philharmonic Society in another of their appropriate selections.

Mrs. Mary Howe Smith, of the State Normal School at Oswego, New York, delivered a lecture on "The Earth as the Theatre of Human Development." The lecturess occupied about three-quarters of an hour explaining in a very entertaining and instructive manner her theory of teaching geography by successive steps suited to the capacities of every class, each separate and complete in itself, yet sufficiently lucid to give a proper idea of the subject.

At the conclusion of Mrs. Smith's lecture the Philharmonic Society favored the audience with another beautiful song, after which Prof. J. R. Newell was introduced and occupied about twenty minutes with an entertainment consisting of a reading selection entitled "Richard Doubledick" and "Lord Ullin's Daughter," a poetical recitation. Following Prof. Newell, Prof. Shoemaker, of Philadelphia, continued the elocutionary exercises and read two poetical selections "Is there no God," and "Charcoal," a parody on Excelsior, after which the Institute adjourned until this morning at nine o'clock.

The Lane Murder—Reading the Death Warrant to the Prisoner.

The case of Louis Lane, the wife murderer, has, from the circumstances surrounding it, created more than an ordinary interest in this community. The doomed man, it will be remembered, has been twice convicted of murder of the first degree, and a strong effort was made by his counsel to procure another trial, which, however, failed. The case was a remarkably peculiar one, and, so far as our knowledge extends, is without a parallel in many respects. While there is little, if any doubt as to the guilt of the prisoner in the public mind, the evidence upon which he was convicted was all circumstantial, and it is asserted by many legal gentlemen of acknowledged ability that the chain of circumstances was not complete as it should have been to warrant a verdict in a case where the punishment is death. There were circumstances outside of the evidence in the case which tend largely to confirm the impression of the prisoner's guilt. His counsel labored long and faithfully, and without hope of pecuniary reward or recompense for their labors, and did all that it was possible for them to do to save his life, but without effect. His doom is now sealed.

At eleven o'clock yesterday morning Sheriff Cluley, accompanied by the prisoner's counsel, several representatives of the press, and a few of the county officials, visited the cell of the prisoner in the county jail, for the purpose of reading his death warrant, the receipt of which we announced in yesterday's GAZETTE. The prisoner was quietly seated at the foot of his bed, on a trunk, apparently unconcerned as to his fate, and when the party entered he exhibited no emotion whatever, other than that of curiosity. Sheriff Cluley then proceeded to read with considerable emotion the DEATH WARRANT.

To Samuel B. Cluley, Esq., High Sheriff of the County of Allegheny:

WHEREAS, At a Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery, held at Pittsburgh, in and for the county of Allegheny, in this Commonwealth, at the December sessions, A. D. 1868, a certain Louis Lane was tried on an indictment for the crime of murder, and on the eighth day of January, 1869, was found guilty of murder in the first degree, and was, therefore, on the 20th of February, 1869, sentenced by said Court, that you, Louis Lane, the prisoner at the bar, be taken hence, to the jail of Allegheny county, whence you came, and thence to the place of execution, and that you be there hanged by the neck until you are dead.

NOW, THEREFORE, this is to authorize and require you, the said Samuel B. Cluley, High Sheriff of the county of Allegheny, as aforesaid, to cause the sentence of the said Court of Oyer and Terminer, and General Jail Delivery, to be executed upon the said Louis Lane, between the hours of ten o'clock in the forenoon, and three o'clock in the afternoon of Thursday, the twenty-ninth day of April, 1869, in the manner directed by the seventy-sixth section of the General Assembly of this Commonwealth, approved the thirty-first day of March, A. D. 1860, entitled an act to consolidate, revise and amend the Penal Laws of this Commonwealth, relating to penal proceedings and pleadings, and for so doing this shall be your sufficient warrant.

Given under my hand at Harrisburg, this 26th day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine, and of the Commonwealth the ninety-third.

By the Governor.

J. JORDAN,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

The doomed man listened calmly and attentively to the reading of the document, which fixed to a certainty the end of his earthly existence. When the Sheriff had concluded reading the document he took the prisoner by the hand and exhorted him to resign all earthly hope and spend the few days the law had allotted to him in preparing to meet his God, before whose awful presence he was so soon to be summoned. He assured him that everything possible should be done for his comfort during his short stay on earth. Mr. McCarthy, one of his counsel, also shook hands with the prisoner, and the party withdrew, leaving him alone to contemplate in solitude the fearful doom which awaits him.

Collecting a Board Bill.

Isaac and Hugh McCord, proprietors of a tavern on Fifth Avenue, in the Sixth ward, attempted to collect a board bill a few days since in a manner not altogether satisfactory to the delinquent boarder, and the result was a prosecution for assault and battery. Mr. James Broad and his wife, it appears, had been boarding at McCord's for some time, and owed the sum of twenty dollars for boarding. Saturday evening last, not having the necessary amount of money to liquidate the debt, he did as any honest man would, offered to pay ten dollars, which was all the money he could spare at that time, and promised to pay the remainder at an early day. Mr. McCord, however, refused to take the money tendered, whereupon Mr. Broad resolved to leave the establishment and procure boarding at another house. Shortly after he had gone to his room, one of the McCord's came up stairs and told him he would take that money now, but Mr. B. declined to pay it, whereupon the other McCord and the bar keeper were called up, and the three proceeded to give Mr. Broad a beating. He made information before the Mayor charging the McCord's with assault and battery, and also for selling liquor without license. They were held to bail for their appearance at Court on the former charge, and fined fifty dollars on the latter.

Disorderly.

Officer Campbell, of Allegheny, on Sunday afternoon arrested John Myers, a youth about nineteen years of age, for creating a disturbance on Green street in the Third ward. Subsequently, James Cupples made information against Myers for assault and battery. Cupples alleges that while he was standing on his doorstep Myers came up and after making a few insulting remarks, without provocation, struck him twice in the face. Myers it is alleged was in an intoxicated condition at the time. The affair caused a large erowd to gather around the place, which attracted the attention of the police and led to the arrest of Myers. After a hearing he was fined ten dollars for disorderly conduct, which he paid and was discharged.

Grand Spring Opening.

Readers will remember that the grand opening of spring dry goods will take place to-day at the popular house of E. R. Gardiner, west corner of Fourth avenue and Market street. The stock is one of the largest and best assorted ever opened by this house, and will more than favorably compare with that held by any other establishment. All the latest novelties are introduced, and the prices have been marked down to such low figures as to render all the goods special bargains. We trust none of our readers will fail to be present at the grand opening to-day, whether they desire to purchase or merely to look through the stock.

THE COURTS

Court of Quarter Sessions—Judge Stowe—Trial of John Bell, Charles Proutt and Thomas C. Graham for Arson.

MONDAY, March 29.—Lee Robinson was tried on an indictment charging him with committing an assault and battery upon John J. Miller. The jury found a verdict of guilty. The defendant was remanded for sentence.

William, alias "Fatty" Boyle, was charged with stealing ten dollars from a boy. The robbery was perpetrated at the Chestnut street station of the West Pennsylvania Road, in Allegheny. The money had been taken by the boy from his father, who was intoxicated. Boyle saw the transfer, and taking advantage of the absence of the boy's father, garroted the boy and took the money. He was subsequently arrested by Chief of Police Bowden, who appeared as prosecutor. The defendant plead guilty, and was sentenced to the Western Penitentiary for three years.

The Concert Last Night.

The grand Old Folks Concert last night at the Academy of Music, under the auspices of Prof. William A. Lawton, attracted a large and brilliant audience, and the entertainment was of such high order that we feel safe in anticipating much larger attendance to-night, on its repetition with an entire change of programme. The entertainment last evening opened with a pretty and expressive tableau representing the troubles of a '76 singing school. The participants of the concert were each arrayed in gorgeous costume peculiar to ye olden time, and presented a splendid and pleasing appearance. The Hallelujah chorus by some thirty of as fine voices as ever breathed harmonious sounds together opened the concert and was rapturously applauded. A quartette, amusing, and yet effective, followed by Messrs. Lawton, Rinehart, Cuthbert and Robinson, and by its clever rendition and drollery excited the audience into a fervor, and put all in the humor of enjoyment. A solo from Miss Hattie Jones, an artiste far superior to the majority of opera prima donnas who come this way, was rendered in a marvellously beautiful and correct manner, and secured for the lady a most hearty encore, to which she gracefully complied and sang a more simple ditty, which fully proclaimed her genius and versatility. A chorus, "Invitation," by Kimball, was splendidly rendered, and was followed by a solo, "Adelaide," by Prof. Lawton, accompanied by Mr. Mellor on the piano and a full orchestra, is as fine a piece of united vocalism as we have ever listened to, and elicited the warmest applause. A quartette followed, the popular "Dream On," in which Misses Wallace and Patterson, and Messrs. Sutton and Williams participated. It was superbly rendered. The "Tramp Chorus," by thirty voices, was a fine contribution, and concluded the first part of the programme. After a brief interlude part second opened with a poetic tableau, representing the exalted mission of the Grand Army of the Republic, which was closely followed by the inspiring chorus from Haydn's "Creation," and "The Heavens are Telling." This was followed by Flotow's famous "Porter Song," by Mr. C. C. Rinehart. The natural grace, full voice, and vivacity of this interpretation was such as to merit and receive a hearty encore to which the talented gentleman responded singing the concluding verse of the song, which never could grow tedious to an appreciative audience. "The song of the old folks" followed and was enthusiastically received. A duet "the Fisherman" by Miss Hattie Jones and Mr. Dihm, was as pretty a piece of vocalism as we have ever heard and was so rapturously encored as to draw from the same artists a duet, "Meet me by Moonlight Alone." Miss Anna Houston, deservedly a popular favorite, and one who occupies no second place among our talented home amateurs, sang with peculiar effect and grace "Katie's Letter," and in answer to an enthusiastic encore rendered "Viva the Laugh" with decided power and perfection, pleasing the audience beyond measure. She was followed by Miss Good, an alto singer of brilliancy, who takes lead in her branch of vocalization, assisted by a full chorus in the grand and soul inspiring gem of "Don Nobis" from Mozart's twelfth mass. We have often attended the Cathedral to hear this gem by the popular choir of that church, but never before did it break upon our ears in such full force, power and brilliancy as upon last evening, when rendered by the talented members of the "Old Folks." Altogether the concert was a success, and those who would form a correct estimate to Pittsburgh's claim to superiority in musical matters over most cities of the Union should be in attendance at its repetition to-night. Reserved seats will be offered for sale at Mellor's and Barr, Knake & Buettler's music stores all day, and we earnestly advise our readers to procure them and participate in the occasion of this evening.

Thieves at Work.

Some time during Saturday night some thieves effected an entrance into the tobacco store of Mr. James McIlwaine, corner of Pasture Lane and Taylor Avenue, Allegheny, by forcing open one of the shutters of the rear window. They secured a lot of cigars and about twelve pounds of tobacco, with which they made off. No clue.

At an early hour yesterday morning the leather store of Messrs. Spangler & Graham, on the west side of the Allegheny Diamond, below Ohio street, was broken into by some adroit thieves, who carried off twelve pairs of crimped boot uppers. They had taken a number of hides of leather from the store, but it is supposed were interrupted in their operations and compelled to leave quickly, as the hides were found in an alley in the rear of the store. The thieves effected an entrance from the rear of the store by forcing open a door.
